Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

This is the second office action for U.S. Application 10/521,245 for a Support for Electrical Display Device filed on August 26, 2005. Claims 1-20 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-9 and 18-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on April 14, 2008. Applicant's election with traverse of Species 2 in the reply filed on April 14, 2008 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that Species 2 and 3 are related because they have certain features in common. This is not found persuasive because features listed are well known in the art and do not appear to be crucial to the inventive concept, which appears to be the mounting itself. Searching for the different mountings would place an undue burden upon the Examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Objections

Claims 11-13 are objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant refers to "the support member" in the claims, but there are two support members. The claims should indicate which support member is being referenced. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,863,252 to Bosson. Bosson discloses a support for an electrical display device with a pair of support members (80 and 2B1,2B2) connected by a universal joint comprising a part spherical bearing (83... if the sides are rounded it will be spherical) immovably mounted on one support member. The bearing is received within a bearing seat 961) pivotally mounted to the other support member to enable relative movement between the bearing and the bearing seat in any direction and, between the bearing seat and the other support member about a pivot axis. The bearing seat comprises a looped element that supports and partially encircles the bearing and the ends of the looped element are pivotally mounted to the support member. There are corresponding apertures formed in the ends of the looped element and the support member to receive a fastening member (6) to pivotally attach the looped element to the support member so that a compressive force is exerted by the looped element on the bearing, and there is a resilient material layer (9, 41) disposed between at least one end of the looped element and the support member to enable the compressive force by tightening or loosening the fastening member. One support member is a support arm (2B1, 2B2) and the other is a support plate (80) to receive and mount a display device. The bearing is immovably mounted to the support plate and the bearing seat is pivotally mounted to the support arm to enable rotation of the bearing seat about the pivot axis. The support plate includes a mounting surface for the display device and a socket (70) to receive and immovably mount the bearing, the bearing and support plate being integral.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

US 4382572 to Thompson

US 6758454 to Smed

US 2005/0127261 to Lin

US 6915996 to Lin

US 7398950 to Hung

The above patents disclose support and arm assemblies.
